

Indochina War May Draw U. S. In As Partner

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials, from the President down, express confidence the French eventually will whip the Vietminh, the Communist-led rebels, in their seven-year-old war in Indochina. The rebels are being supplied by the Russians and by the Red Chinese just across the border. This country has pumped in supplies to the French. Neither China nor the United States has taken a direct hand in the fighting.

Bombers Sent In
But if the Vietminh smash the French or the Red Chinese decide to step over the border and get into the fighting, the United States would have to make a fateful decision about getting directly into the war itself. The loss of Indochina to the Communists would probably be followed by the loss of the rest of Southeast Asia.

Any direct American participation might at first be limited to air and sea action, with no American ground troops sent in. It's anyone's guess what would happen after that.

The United States has sent B26 bombers into Indochina for the French, plus transport planes, plus 250 Air Force technicians to service the planes which the French would fly in battle.

French Want More
Some American civilian pilots—employed by Civil Air Transport, a privately owned line with headquarters in Hong Kong—are flying the transports on supply missions. The French want more bombers. If they get them, they say, they'll need more Air Force men to service them. Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, had said not long ago the 250 Air Force technicians sent in already would be withdrawn by June.

Two days ago Secretary of Defense Wilson told a news conference the Indochinese troops fighting beside the French need "effective and aggressive" training if the war is to be won.

Various U.S. steps to help the French have caused concern in Congress that the United States might get so deeply involved in the war that outright participation might be a necessary next step.

President Eisenhower, at his Feb. 10 news conference, tried to quiet such fears by saying every step this government takes in helping the French to fight the Reds in Indochina is intended to keep this country out of a hot war there.

Just what will this country do if the Red Chinese finally decide to take an active part in the fighting? No one in government has given an answer.

But last Sept. 2 Secretary of State Dulles made a statement which might be considered a warning to the Chinese. Their intervention, he said, could not occur without grave consequences which might not be confined to Indochina.

Unemployment May Ease Up In March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks says there are some indications of a drop in unemployment during March.

The secretary told the national conference of business paper executives Wednesday that new claims for unemployment benefits dropped in 12 or more cities this month and that there has been substantial rehiring in the farm machinery and automobile industries.

These, Weeks said, are among considerations that "give rise to the feeling that unemployment may not be as high in March as in February."

The March figures will be made public next month.

Atlantic Coast Dock Strike Falling Apart

NEW YORK (AP) — The AFL contended today that a rival union's 20-day dock strike that has cost an estimated 275 million dollars is "falling apart."

More men were reported going back to work. And the possibility that the strike might spread today to other ports failed to materialize.

The AFL International Longshoremen Assn. (AF-ILA) said 4,000 of its members crossed picket lines of the rival independent ILA and went to work, compared with 3,600 Wednesday.

Union endorsement of the walk-out here did not bring an immediate shutdown in any harbor in the ILA district from Portland, Maine, to Hampton Roads, Va.

Diverted To Baltimore
"No sympathy strike" was the word from Baltimore, whose dockers have handled the bulk of the ships diverted from New York.

ILA President William W. Bradley said he had been told that his union's men in the other ports "want to go out."

Recently signed ILA work contracts in other ports were seen as a possible deterrent to spread of the strike. No contract is in force here.

After the strike was sanctioned late Wednesday, the rival AFL-ILA pledged to "keep the port open."

The walkout by members of the ILA — ousted from the AFL last fall for harboring racketeers — has been staged in defiance of a federal court injunction. Contempt of court proceedings are pending.

The ILA high command reportedly hopes to escape possible jail terms or fines for contempt for endorsing the walkout by contending that the strike is a "no contract, no work" action and not a defiance of the federal court injunction issued March 4, the day before the walkout started.

Bradley said he considered it was his "sacred duty" to lead the union in its fight for a contract with the New York Shipping Assn., which represents 170 shipping and stevedoring companies.

The wildcat ILA strikers have declared for weeks that they would stay off the job until their union was certified as bargaining agent for the harbor's 24,000 longshoremen.

State Pay Raise Up For Approval

LANSING (AP) — The State Civil Service commission will hold a special meeting Monday night to give final approval to proposed pay raises for state employees.

Arthur G. Rasch, civil service director, said that after the meeting he should be able to furnish the Legislature with the exact annual cost of the pay raises.

The meeting was called after the legislative appropriating committee protested that the commission's regularly-scheduled April 8 meeting would come the day before the Legislature adjourns, making it impossible to figure the pay raises into the budget.

Rasch said the pay boosts should amount to about six million dollars annually.

About one million of this will come from federal and restricted funds, he said.

"That will leave about five million dollars to be appropriated by the Legislature," Rasch said.

The Civil Service Commission has proposed salary increases for state employees ranging from five to 10 cents an hour. It also proposed that additional pay boosts be given certain "critical classes" such as attendant nurses at state mental hospitals and prison guards.

Donations Clear Hospital Debt At Woodruff, Wis.

WOODRUFF, Wis. (AP) — With some contributions still to be counted, Lakeland Memorial Hospital today had $78,817.84 to wipe out a $32,000 debt.

Ralph Edwards, master of ceremonies for the "This Is Your Life" television show, announced the total on his program at Hollywood Wednesday night. The money to cancel the debt poured in by mail here in a nationwide campaign prompted by the appearance of Dr. Kate Newcomb, famous north woods physician for whom the hospital was built, as the subject of the Edwards show March 17.

There were more than 152,000 individual contributions addressed to "Doctor Kate." The deluge of mail weighed 13½ tons.

The hospital, built at a cost of $172,000, will open soon debt free with Dr. Newcomb as chief of staff.

Benzie County Seat May Be Transferred Back To Frankfort

FRANKFORT (AP) — Need for a new jail may result in shifting the Benzie County seat from Beulah to Frankfort.

The board of supervisors is inviting communities in the county to submit sealed proposals of assistance in construction of a new courthouse and jail. Petitions were circulated here Wednesday for a city charter amendment to allow raising city funds for the purpose.

Citizens went on record for raising city funds for the purpose. Citizens went on record for raising $50,000 to $100,000 for the buildings at a mass meeting here Tuesday night.

American Diplomats Accused Of Spying On Soviet Airfields

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (AP) — The newspaper Trud charged four members of the U. S. embassy's military staff today with spying on Soviet airfields and other important installations on a rail trip from Moscow to Vladivostok.

The embassy refused to comment on the charges.

Trud, the trade union newspaper, claimed the alleged espionage was revealed in military intelligence reports the Americans left behind in their compartment on the Trans-Siberian Express. It said the chief conductor found the papers at the end of the run.

"The documents, it continued, 'constitute an intelligence report on the main towns and stations between Moscow and Khabarovsk,' an industrial and transportation center of 300,000 persons north of Vladivostok on the Manchurian border.

"Special attention was paid to airfields, radio station, industrial plants and the like," Trud said.

The four accused by the paper were Lt. Col. Howard L. Felchlin, Maj. Walter McKinney, Maj. Martin J. Manhoff and S. Sgt. Eugene Williams.

Trud published what it said were photostat copies of their papers and commented:

"If the above-mentioned persons would like to get back their documents, which evidently were forgotten in the rush, they can do so by calling at the porter's office."

The embassy would confirm only that the four men made a train trip to Vladivostok last September.

Trud also said: "I say if any man like Haymes makes a lot of dough in this country and is afraid, or refuses to serve his country in time of need, he can go back to Argentina and take Rita with him."

Neither Haymes nor his attorney could be reached for comment.

Household Appliance Tax Cut In Senate As GOP Loses Grip

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leaders regrouped forces today against any further floor cuts in excise taxes after losing a test in which a 100-million-dollar reduction was voted on household appliances.

The GOP leadership lost control Wednesday night and, when that became apparent, agreed to accept the household appliance cut. The vote for it was 64-23.

There remains a good possibility the appliance tax cut, from 10 to 5 per cent, will be knocked out in

Israel Asks U. N. To Punish Arabs

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Israel appealed to the Western Big Three today for immediate U. N. action on the Arab killing of 11 Israeli bus passengers in the Negev Desert, but diplomats here anticipated the Security Council would delay action.

The council was to meet late today for further debate on Israel's charges that Egypt is blockading cargoes destined for her via the Suez Canal. U. N. sources believed the council would want to dispose of this matter before turning to the bus incident, for which Israel blames Jordan.

Jordan, which has denied responsibility for the ambush 12 miles from her border last week, informed U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld officially Wednesday she would not meet with Israel to discuss their border troubles.

Invoking a clause of the Palestine armistice, Israel had demanded the meeting last November during Security Council discussion of the killing in October of some 53 Arabs in an Israeli raid on the Jordan village of Kibya.

Stop Pollution, Ironwood Told

LANSING (AP) — Ironwood and Battle Creek have been ordered to clean up local stream pollution by the State Water Resources Commission.

At its meeting Wednesday the Commission declared Ironwood in default of an order requiring completion of a primary sewage treatment plant by last Dec. 31.

The city is charged with polluting the Montreal River.

The case was ordered turned over to the attorney general's office for legal action.

Battle Creek was given a six month extension on its construction program to clear up pollution of the Battle Creek and Kalamazoo rivers. The city was ordered to have plans in by July 1, 1955 and to complete pollution control by Jan. 1, 1957.

Chiang Dedicates Rest Of His Life To Freeing China

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek today pledged his remaining years to the task of recovering mainland China from the Reds and establishing a "free, democratic and independent China."

Chiang, in a speech closing the National Assembly, which re-elected him to another six-year term, said his government would welcome criticism intended to further the cause of democracy in China.

But he said this "privilege" did not apply to Communists, fellow travelers or to "people shouting from sanctuaries abroad."

The latter apparently was a reference to K. C. Wu, former governor of Formosa now in Evanston, Ill., and such persons as Li Tsung-jen, who was sacked by the Assembly March 10 from the vice presidency. Li has lived in New York for several years.

Hearing In Army's Row With McCarthy Set For Next Week

By G. MILTON KELLY and JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today he still hopes to launch next week a public Senate investigation of the heated row between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and top Army officials.

He outlined a quick-paced schedule he wants to follow as presiding officer of the inquiry.

Two Items On Agenda
It calls for swift selection of a special counsel and agreement on ground rules under which the Senate investigations subcommittee will look into:

1. An Army report backed by Secretary Stevens accusing McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, of trying to get favored treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, an unpaid subcommittee aide until he was drafted last fall. McCarthy and Cohn have denied the charge.

2. Return accusations by McCarthy and Cohn that Stevens and his associates tried to "blackmail" the committee into dropping its inquiry into alleged Communists in the Army by using Schine as a "hostage." Stevens replied that the charge was "fantastic."

Gag For Senator?
Mundt told reporters he is thinking in terms of five busy days of taking testimony, declaring, "I can't see anything in the picture now that would take longer."

Still awaiting decision is the exact role of McCarthy in the inquiry.

McCarthy has said he will insist on the right to cross-examine witnesses, and is willing to submit to questioning by Army representatives when he testifies himself.

He says he is willing to step to the sidelines on all other matters in the inquiry.

A veteran Democratic senator who has a deep knowledge of Senate rules said he believes that if McCarthy remains a member of the investigating subcommittee he will have to be permitted to cross-examine Army witnesses.

Nevertheless, a high Republican official, who also didn't want to be quoted by name, said in a separate interview the Eisenhower administration is making a major effort to block McCarthy off from cross-examination.

Jet Planes May Ruin Music Camp

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, founder and director of National Music Camp at Interlochen near Traverse City, has protested to President Eisenhower over proposed establishment of an Air Force jet base here.

Dr. Maddy said in Amarillo, Tex., Wednesday he will ask the government for $5,000,000 to finance removal of his music center if the Air Force sets up a jet base west of Long Lake on a site surveyed recently. The site is about four miles from Interlochen.

Sound of jet planes "would ruin the music camp," Maddy said he told the President.

Chamber of Commerce officials reported receipt of telegrams from Maddy about the jet base site. However, city, county and chamber officials said they consider the Long Lake site excellent both from the standpoint of national defense and welfare of the Grand Traverse area.

Meantime, Frankfort residents have invited Maddy to move the music camp to their locality.

Maddy, who is in Texas conducting music festivals for the University of Michigan, said in case he has to move his camp, he would prefer a location in Benzie County, particularly the Crystal Lake area.

Frankfort leaders said they would offer a substantial sum of money to obtain the camp.

New Proposal Designed To End School Deficits

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Legislature has placed the Conlin plan to revise the sales tax diversion amendment on next November's ballot.

The proposal, a constitutional amendment which does not need the governor's signature, passed the Senate unanimously Wednesday after previous approval in the House.

The Conlin plan is designed to end the so-called "time bomb" effect of the present diversion amendment by paying out the money on a current basis to school districts.

Increased By Million
The public schools now are paid their sales tax money in one year on the basis of collections two years earlier. Fiscal officials blame this for continual state deficits.

The plan, conceived by Rep. Rolfe G. Conlin, (R-Tipton), would give the school districts two cents of the three cent sales tax, compared to their present 1.8431 cents. The schools would be required to pay the cost of teacher pensions, now a state charge.

Sponsors estimate schools will receive about one million dollars more after meeting the pension costs.

The Senate defeated a bill forbidding the sale of merchandise on the rights-of-way of state and county roads, and also rejected a bill naming US31 in Mason and Oceana counties the Pere Marquette Memorial Highway.

May Revive FEPC

Airliner Shaken Up At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Four passengers and a stewardess were shaken up early today when a Trans World Airlines Martin Skyliner skidded off the runway during a rain storm in landing at Midway Airport.

The 40-passenger plane, with only four passengers and a crew of three aboard on a flight from Newark, N. J., nosed over in the rain-soaked mud 50 feet off the runway.

The passengers and stewardess were taken to Holy Cross Hospital for a checkup and hospital attendants said none suffered injuries. The pilot and co-pilot did not receive hospital treatment.

The plane, which had made stops at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, landed during a heavy thunder storm at 3:15 a. m. (CST). The pilot was Capt. C. V. Sparrow, of Livingston, N. J. Co-pilot was Roy Fowler.

Taken to the hospital were the stewardess, Donna Whitmore, 22, of Newark, and the four passengers, William H. States Jr., 38, Croydon, Pa.; Frank R. Seward, about 60, Lexington, Mo.; R. M. Springer, 37, Philadelphia, and H. J. Knowles, about 38, Kansas City, a TWA employee.

Report To Council:

Keep Safety Director System, Says Manager

Citing the efficiency and economy resulting from the present integrated Escanaba police and fire departments and noting its advantages for the future, City Manager A. V. Aronson in a report to the City Council recommends that the "administrative integration" be continued in the position of city safety director.

The question of continuing the office of city safety director arose following the announced resignation of Glen S. Leonard, safety director, who will leave April 1 for Oak Park where he has accepted a similar position at higher salary.

Mayor Robert E. LeMire, following Leonard's resignation, reported that city employees, civic leaders, and others were questioning whether the fire and police departments should not be separated. If this were done, each department would have a chief and administration would not head in a safety director.

Would Retain System

City Manager Aronson, who is convalescing following surgery, has issued a report to the City Council on the subject. Separation of the departments rests in the Council.

"I wish to strongly recommend that we retain our present administrative integration. Not only do I feel that proper administration is necessary, but for the reasons included herein, I feel that it is economical in both the short and long run.

"Since the job of administration in the fire department does not require a fulltime administrator, the integration of the two accomplishes two things:

"First, it provides for an administrator at small cost to either department since they participate equally, and, second, it accomplishes the first step in achieving full integration and its accompanying economies. Again, I urge you to retain our present system."

Administrative Need

The city manager cited the history of integration of the departments at the administrative level in 1949, and directed attention to changed conditions which more than ever require trained administration to carry out increased responsibilities and magnitude of duties.

"To argue that there is no need for an administrative officer or officers to head these two departments is to except them from other operating departments," he noted.

"It has been recognized and proven that a qualified administrative head is needed.

"There seems to be little reason why the fire and police departments, which combined account for approximately 20 percent or one-fifth of the cost of furnishing municipal services other than utilities, should be deprived of proper administration. More supervision is not sufficient; adequate leadership is imperative."

Financial Aspects

The city manager reported that he does not feel the city's best interests would be served by filling the vacancy of safety director, or police or fire chiefs, through promotion, "though I recognize the principle of increasing morale by filling vacancies by promotion whenever possible."

Aronson reported to the Council that he believes costs are less now that they would be if the office of safety director were abolished; and that costs would increase if operating strength of the departments were maintained to present standards in the future.

The city manager directs attention to the "constantly increasing cost of fire protection," due largely to shortening of the work week for firemen without reducing their pay. A further reduction in hours for firemen is proposed in a bill already passed by the Michigan House and due to come out of Senate committee this week.

Noting the strong news toward further integration of fire and police departments because of increased costs, the city manager reported that this cannot be accomplished without integration at the administrative level in the position of city safety director.

A start has been made toward integration of the departments in Escanaba "and it would be at great cost in the future if we were to abandon this start," he added.

Woman Is Charged In Check Forgery

Mrs. Shirely Campbell, 22, of Mt. Pleasant, was returned to Escanaba last night by Sheriff William E. Miron for arraignment on a charge of forgery in connection with a $35 check cashed Feb. 25 at the Allingham service station.

Two companions of Mrs. Campbell, Tom and Michael Gilland, are serving 90-day jail terms in Lenawee County for forgery and assault and battery, the sheriff reported.

Mrs. Campbell has made a signed statement in which she admitted forgery in connection with the charge here, Sheriff Miron reported.

Drippy Skies Will Continue

Drippy skies that up to noon had brought slightly over a half inch of rainfall to Escanaba and vicinity, were just a mild sample of what central U. S. A. has been receiving since yesterday afternoon, S. E. Decker of the Escanaba weather bureau reports.

Throughout southeast Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Lower Michigan the area has been deluged with rainfall varying from over an inch to nearly 5 inches. Galva, Ill., had 4.96 inches, Keokuk, Iowa, 4.35 and St. Louis, Mo., a trace over 4 inches. Four tornadoes visited Oklahoma late yesterday and two in Arkansas. The heaviest fall in Michigan was at Grand Rapids where 2.93 inches fell during the night.

Warnings have been issued that tornadoes may visit somewhere between Evansville, Ind., and Cleveland, Ohio today.

The local rain began as a light flurry of snow, but warming temperatures turned it to rain shortly after midnight. Showers will be intermittent throughout the day turning to snow late this evening, according to Decker.

Wind will increase in tempo late this afternoon, says Decker and

Carl L. Johnson, representative of the Social Security Administration from the Escanaba office, gave an interesting explanation of social security at the Ford River Lions meeting held this week at the Ford River school.

He explained how social security operates for retirement and how a widow with children may benefit. He showed a film that demonstrated actual cases being aided by the employer and employees sharing together in aiding a worker and his family when they create a foundation of security for them.

A film also was shown on the Lions program at Boysville. The Boysville student accepted for this week of activity, learns how our government functions through actual operation of applying it to Boysville. He meets Governor G. Mennen Williams while at Michigan State College where this function is held. He will visit the Capitol and meet many new friends.

Plans of the Lumberjack Jamboree were discussed and an egg tossing contest was added as one of the events to stimulate competition between the Lumberjack and his Jill Sunday, June 27.

Needy Children To Receive Clothing From City Schools

Needy children in America and foreign lands will receive gifts of clothing from public school children of Escanaba as this community's contribution to the 12th annual nationwide "Children's Clothing Crusade."

Bundles of clothing are being brought to school this week by the students as their part in the campaign under auspices of the Save the Children Federation's national advisory committee of school superintendents.

The clothing collected will be used to aid children and families in Korea, six war-depleted countries of Europe, in Lebanon, and in disadvantaged rural areas of the United States, including the Navajo Indian Reservation.

In Europe, the children are still suffering from the ravages of war, the need in Korea is even more urgent. Nine million victims of Communist aggression in Korea have been torn from their homes. They have only rags in which to clothe themselves.

Federation officials present these pointers for clothing givers who want to be sure their clothing will do the most good:

Most needed is warm clothing—heavy underwear, wool skirts, suits, sweaters and coats. Bundle Week clothing goes to people whose first need is warmth—not style. If the clothing is warm, even adult sizes can be cut down and gratefully used.

Children's shoes are next in importance. Even though scuffed, America's outgrown shoes still have miles of use left in them. Here again adult sizes can be used. However, high-heeled women's shoes are of no use either to mothers or children in areas served by the Federation, and should not be included.

Babies' clothing is in constant demand. Diapers, crib blankets, night shirts, warm sweaters and undershirts are especially needed.

enrolled in an educational program. This regulation takes effect August 20, 1954.

Edmer Lacasse of Stephenson is director of the Institute and W. E. Granskog is training supervisor.

Mankind Must Face Horror Revealed By Light Of H-Bomb

WE are beginning to learn the full meaning of the H-bomb. Up until now, all was promise—or threat. But in the last few days, we have had some facts, and they are shattering.

On March 1, at its mid-Pacific proving grounds, the United States touched off its second hydrogen explosion. What happened?

It shot a nuclear cloud 17 miles into the sky. The explosion had a force at least 600 times that of the atom bomb dropped on Hiroshima. The Hiroshima bomb was the

They'll Drive Spies Crazy

AT the Berlin conference, wary British delegates brought along frying-patty mine detectors in their brief cases. They turned up six hidden microphones in their quarters, presumably planted by Reds. The warning is out to all western diplomats heading for Geneva next month: Bring your own detectors.

If the Americans take this up, we suggest they leave the mikes planted where they find them, and mull over some exciting new variations in policy.

For example, they might discuss the new lines of demarcation (and WHAT lines) under the proposed Marilyn Monroe Doctrine, a modern extension of the older and considerably duller James Monroe Doctrine.

They might talk about the relative merits of the Famous Door (a New York night spot) and the Open Door policy.

They might speculate on which it is better to apply at Geneva—protocol or Hadacol.

Or, finally, they might debate whether to offer their Communist adversaries tricks or treaties.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Today let's look at words that readers have asked me about, words halfway recognized but not yet familiar enough to be used readily in conversation or writing. Each of us has a vast store of such words just on the threshold between what the experts call our "recognition" vocabulary and our "use" vocabulary. By learning the origin and meanings of these words and then by using each three times, you can regularly add helpful words to your working vocabulary.

Now let's consider first a brace of rather unusual words which are sometimes confused with each other, "ubiquitous" and "peripatetic." Both peripatetic and ubiquitous persons, we may note in passing, "get around" a good deal, since the first word means "given to walking about" and the second means "being in all places at once."

"Peripatetic" (pronounced pehr-ih-puh-TET-ik) comes from the Greek word peripatetikos, the name for the followers of the philosopher Aristotle who taught in the Lyceum at Athens, pacing back and forth among the youths who came there to learn from him. Nowadays it is most often used half-humorously, as when, in reference to his early morning walks about town, a newspaper reporter wrote of "the peripatetic ex-President, Harry S. Truman."

"Ubiquitous" (pronounced yoo-BIK-wih-tus) is derived from the Latin ubique, everywhere. Originally, and still, it has been used to describe the omnipresence of God's power and influence. But, like its partner, peripatetic, it has come to be used often in a joking sense and now describes any phenomenon which seems to be everywhere at once, any aspect of modern living which seems inescapable. Thus, a columnist might mention "that ubiquitous tune, Stranger in Paradise" and many a Los Angeles dweller might comment ruefully on "that ubiquitous blight, smog."

Come to think of it, we'd have quite a story, would we, if the peripatetic Mr. Truman were to emulate his successor, President Eisenhower, and take up the ubiquitous game of golf?

The Doctor Says . . . Atomic Research May Give Hope To Leukemia Victims

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Each time that I discuss leukemia I hope that there will be something encouraging to report. That day will almost surely come and is likely to be hastened by the research made possible through the development of the new and otherwise frightening discoveries about the atom. Until this happy occasion arrives this disease of the blood and blood-forming organs which, like cancer, is of unknown cause, will have to be discussed in general and less encouraging terms.

There are several kinds of leukemia. For the patient what is important is whether the disease is acute and rapidly progressive or chronic and slowly progressive. In both cases the white blood cells in the blood are abnormal and usually increasing in numbers. The numbers of red cells are generally decreased, producing an anemia. Frequently, too, the spleen which lies in the upper left portion of the abdomen, is enlarged and changes are found in the bone marrow.

In the rapidly progressive types of leukemia there is nothing much that can be done to slow down the course of the disease. In many cases, however, the disease equal of 20,000 tons of TNT. The new H-bomb equaled 15 million tons of TNT.

At Hiroshima, some 60,000 Japanese died as result of the A-bomb. Who can say with any accuracy how many would perish if a bomb 600 times as powerful were exploded in a populous center.

This H-bomb jarred Kwajalein Island, 176 miles away. It scattered radioactive dust, moisture and debris far beyond the safety-zone boundaries of the test area. Radioactive H-bomb ash fell on Japan, 1800 miles away.

A boatload of Japanese fishermen 80 miles from the explosion suffered severe burns from radioactive coral ash which descended on their boat long hours after the blast.

Actually, scientific instruments failed to measure the full force of the burst, but scientists are guessing that it was three to four times as great as they had expected.

Senator Bridges of New Hampshire says that the earlier bomb or device wiped out an island and tore a hole in the ocean floor 175 feet deep and a mile wide.

Since this report was made, arguments have developed among our officials and statesmen regarding the wisdom of telling even a fuller story.

Those who say we should speak out believe the mere knowledge of the awfulness of this weapon (and this was a droppable weapon) will serve as a monumental deterrent to war.

It seems to us the more that can be told, without hurting security, the better it will be. And every last detail ought to be beamed again and again by U.S. and European transmitters to Russia and the Iron Curtain countries.

Unimaginable horror stares mankind in the face if another war should be fought. Men will gain nothing, and may lose everything, if they now avert their gaze.

Other Editorial Comments

CARNIVALS (Menominee Herald Leader)

Menominee City Council has turned down a request for permission to sponsor a carnival in Menominee. Council endorsed the recommendation of its public safety committee that a license be denied because of the traffic hazard which it would create on the already-busy detour of 10th Street traffic along 13th Street and because of the further complication of sewer construction work.

The community is thus spared, by circumstance, a visitation which had been dreaded by many parents, by the police establishments and by those who think that the City should restrict its licensing of public entertainments to those which contribute something worthwhile to public entertainment. When a carnival can prosper only by suspension of the state's anti-gambling laws and when its shows are suggestive and tawdry, as so often is the case, no public benefit has been conferred.

It has become a regrettable American custom to permit carnivals to trade upon communities' obligations to local groups. Carnivals which could not have obtained a city license upon their own application have obtained such licenses through local sponsorship by groups which city officials were loath to deny. This puts an obligation upon groups which undertake sponsorship. The public is best served if the elected city officials keep within their own hands the licensing power and do not delegate it to other groups; then the electorate has the means of expressing its reaction at the polls.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The new look for senatorial probes is being launched by Senator Jenner's Internal Security Committee today with Spruille Braden, former assistant secretary of state, as the star witness.

Braden has prepared 10 revelations showing how communism or communistic influences affected foreign policy during or immediately after the war, the most sensational of them involving Alger Hiss.

Possibly more important than Braden's revelations, however, will be the attempt by Senate Republicans to steal the Communist show away from Joe McCarthy. Jenner has appointed a distinguished new chief counsel replacing Robert Morris—Charles Grimes, a former Dewey racket-buster and a New York attorney with a reputation for fairness. Grimes plan is to lean over backward in presenting evidence and give opposing witnesses every opportunity to present their side.

The hearings are part of a plan outlined to McCarthy by Vice President Nixon and deputy attorney general William P. Rogers last December in Miami when they tried to persuade McCarthy to go back to corruption-hunting and let the Jenner Committee handle communism. Though McCarthy agreed to this at the time, he has been jumping the traces ever since.

Grimes, though appointed by Senator Jenner, was actually handpicked by the Brownell-Rogers-Dewey group, with whom he had worked in the past.

Braden, the opening gun in the "New Look" probe, will tell how, as assistant secretary of state in 1946, he discovered that Alger Hiss had written a memo to the United Nations listing Panama as a country occupied by U. S. troops. Hiss had written the memo without consulting the Latin American division of which Braden was then in charge.

While it was true that U. S. troops were stationed in some parts of Panama, in addition to the Canal Zone, Braden contended that the country as such was not "occupied" would cause a disastrous reaction below the Rio Grande. So he went to Dean Acheson then undersecretary of state, who in turn tried to have Hiss withdraw the U. N. report. Hiss, however was away and could not be found.

Two or three days later, Hiss turned up, admitted he should have cleared his report with the Latin American division, but refused Braden's request that it be withdrawn. Though the report had not been made public, Hiss claimed it would put the United States in an embarrassing position to have it corrected.

Later the report was published and became grist for the Russian propaganda mill. According to Braden it seriously hurt our relations with Panama.

MCCARTHY'S MEDALS

Joe McCarthy has received one letter he isn't going to publish. It's from a fireman on the Pennsylvania Railroad Jacob D. Brickley, an ex-marine hero of Lockhaven, Pa., who collected his war medals, put them in an envelope and sent them to the senator from Wisconsin.

"Enclosed are all the medals I received while in the Marine Corps, plus a few extras," Brickley wrote McCarthy. "They aren't much, but they may serve you better. I mean make you a hero."

The medals included a sharpshooter's bar, a unit citation, and theatre ribbons for the tough fighting at Guadalcanal and various parts of the Pacific. Brickley enlisted in 1942 and fought for three years all through the Pacific war.

"These medals I am sending you," Brickley wrote, "I would like to deliver personally. But I couldn't give you all the publicity you are used to receiving."

Undoubtedly he referred to the manner in which McCarthy had applied for and at first had been refused an air medal for taking trips as an observer in Marine Corps planes. Eight years after the war, following continued pressure by McCarthy, the Marine Corps finally awarded him the air medals he requested, at a ceremony which McCarthy arranged in his own office.

"You do not deserve the Purple Heart because of your foot in a bucket episode," Brickley wrote. "From here on you deserve to be known as 'Bucket-Foot Joe,' instead of 'Jumping Joe.'"

Brickley referred to the fact that McCarthy claimed he was wounded in action when actually he hurt his foot while climbing aboard the ship with a bucket tied to his foot during a crossing-the-equator initiation ceremony.

Note—The Lockhaven Express which interviewed Brickley, passed the story on to the Harrisburg office of the Associated Press, which replied that it would be necessary to "clear it with New York." It was not cleared.

Questions and Answers

Q—I read that the Disabled American Veterans and other "chartered" veterans groups appeared before the House Veterans Affairs Committee recently to make their annual reports. Why do they have to report to Congress?

A—Veterans groups chartered by Congress are required by law to make annual financial reports to the House Veterans Affairs Committee. Besides the DAV, chartered veterans groups are the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Veterans of World War II.

Racial Potpourri Does Not Bother Residents Of Hawaii

By FRED SPARKS

HONOLULU —(NEA)— What do you think of a Japanese-American in the United States Senate? For that is bound to happen when (and if) Hawaii, where 40 per cent of the 465,000 people are of Japanese background, becomes the 49th state.

On these islands, where only 69,000 residents are all white, the question seldom worries any except a microscopic minority.

Hawaii is as American as the hot dog and movie drive-ins that line the broad, palm-fringed boulevards, even though the patrons swabbing mustard or spooning in the dark have brown and yellow skins.

Does anybody in Boston or Kansas City, anking down Main Street, worry whether the citizen alongside has parents that came from Germany, Poland or Ireland?

Here, on the endless beaches, nobody thinks whether the bathers came from Tokyo, Manila or Shanghai.

(The parentage of grandparentage break the population into these units: Japanese, 189,000; part Hawaiian, 77,000; all white, 69,000; Filipino, 63,000; Chinese, 32,000; pure Hawaiian, 13,000; Puerto Ricans, 10,000; Koreans, 7,000.)

This is not yet a perfect racial paradise, for there are snobs and cliques every place. But organized groups of hyphenated citizens are fast vanishing as America's newest melting pot gives the national dish an Oriental spice.

Intermarriage is commonplace here. A new race of physically attractive people — with that "Made in U.S.A." look—is growing up in the land of the hula-hula, knocking for a loop Kipling's famous: "East is East and West is West and Never the Twain Shall Meet."

The other night I dined at the home of a Chinese-American family; other guests included a Japanese-American, Korean-American — and a Newspaperman-American.

My host, whose commissions are earned selling and buying Wall Street stocks, has a spanking new house complete with TV, deep-freeze and washing machine — but not a single fork; at home they still favor chopsticks. The 18-year-old son wore blue jeans, moccasins and T-shirt—and after chow hastened to get under and jazz up his hot rod roadster.

Just as in Milwaukee, a German-American family will stuff a guest with sauerbraten, they stuffed me with fried noodles, rice, bamboo shoots and other Cantonese goodies.

Next morning I visited the air-conditioned offices of Tsuyukiama and Yamaguchi, attorneys-at-law, which could be Todd and Yale, complete with pert stenos applying lipstick.

Wilfred Tsuyukiama, a handsome, highly intelligent white-haired gentleman, is Republican president of the Territorial Senate and a logical candidate (next November) for the U. S. Senate if statehood is granted.

If the Honorable Wilfred Tsuyukiama walks on the floor of the Senate, many of his colleagues will be meeting a man of Japanese extraction for the first time — but in 10 minutes they'll forget about it.

Later I visited the University of Hawaii campus and saw the new breed mixing in classroom and playing field. Grandpoo might have had a pigtail—these athletic youngsters have crew cuts.

But a student plebiscite on "Do you favor statehood?" showed 13 per cent opposed. I was given these reasons:

"Don't like the idea of an Oriental Governor and Senator . . ." "Fear Communist control of local labor unions will mean political control . . ." "Think we retain our individual flavor better as a territory."

Actually statehood will be an anti-climax as far as any racial issue is concerned; that was eliminated by the McCarran Act, which broke the bars on foreign-born Asiatics winning citizenship.

Having been often to these islands, God - blessed with the world's finest climate, cleaner than any U. S. mainland city, younger (40 per cent under 21), statistically healthier and more modernized, I often wonder:

"Should Hawaii be trying to get admitted to the United States—or should the United States try to get admitted to Hawaii?"

Astronomers Will Study June 30 Solar Eclipse

WASHINGTON — Shortly before sunrise on June 30, astronomers in southwestern Nebraska and eastern Colorado will attempt the first observation of the zodiacal light while the sun is in total eclipse below the horizon. Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic Society, announced today.

The scientists are members of a project sponsored by the Society and headed by Dr. George Van Biesbroeck of the University of Chicago's Yerkes Observatory.

Greater knowledge long has been sought concerning the unusual light—a faint hazy band which extends upwards from the sun. In the forthcoming study photographic stations will be set up at three stations along a line southwest of North Platte, Nebr., extending into eastern Colorado.

The total eclipse will not be visible in that area. It will occur just below the eastern horizon a few minutes before sunrise. Observers are hopeful that the dawn light's intensity will be sufficiently reduced by the eclipse to permit definitive photographs of the zodiacal light.

Electric Eye Scanners
The astronomers will make horizontal sweeps along the horizon with fast photoelectric scanners in an attempt to distinguish the zodiacal light from the dawn.

Efforts to photograph the elusive light during total solar eclipses in 1937 and 1952 proved unsuccessful. On both occasions the eclipse was taking place above

FLUORIDATION—Citizens of Escanaba will on April 5 vote on the proposal to inject fluorides into the municipal water supply. The result of that vote will be advisory to the City Council. If the people are against fluoridation, it will not be put into effect at this time.

Dr. John W. Knutson, chief of the division of dental health, U. S. Public Health Service, has some informative material to report on the subject. He calls it "The Case for Water Fluoridation."

"Fluoridation of community water supplies is one of the truly important developments in the field of preventive dentistry," he writes.

He points to the history of opposition against other health measures—inoculation against smallpox, pasteurization of milk, chlorination of water.

"Controlled water fluoridation, hailed as the most important development in the history of preventive dentistry, is no exception."

THE FACTS—Dr. Knutson continues by a presentation of the facts of fluoridation: "That an infinitesimal quantity of fluoride compound added to a community water supply will reduce tooth decay by as much as two-thirds.

"That this protection against dental decay will carry over to the future generations of adults.

"That it will save many millions of dollars (nationally) for those of us who are now receiving adequate dental care.

"Perhaps the most important single fact about fluoridation is that it will not harm any living thing or interfere with any industrial process.

"Except for its remarkable benefit to teeth, fluoridation will not affect us, our surroundings or our way of life in any manner whatever."

AND MISINFORMATION—Noting that in any community where fluoridation is contemplated there are rumors and much misinformation concerning the program, Dr. Knutson notes:

"Some of these charges are so flimsy and fantastic that were we to take them seriously we would have to admit that we have progressed no further in our thinking than the days of witchburning and black magic superstition."

In discussing these charges, some of which he describes as "downright false," Dr. Knutson reports:

Fluoridation is no more "mass medication" than the accepted chlorination of water to prevent typhoid or the iodizing of salt to prevent goiter or enriching milk and bread with Vitamin D to prevent rickets.

There is no "tampering with nature" in fluoridation, for fluoride is a normal constituent (in varying amounts, in water supplies in this and other countries.

The addition of fluorides does not "poison our water supplies," for while fluoride is toxic in excessive amounts, the amount added is carefully controlled. It is, therefore, no more "poisonous" than baking soda or chlorine, which are also toxic in excess.

NO CAUSE OF DISEASE—Dr. Knutson points out that about 3,000,000 Americans live in regions where the water is naturally fluoridated. They have lived there all their lives and these people are not "poisoned."

He directs attention to the charge that fluoridation at the recommended 1 part fluorides to 1 million parts water "can cause, or contribute to the cause of, any number of dire ailments, ranging from cancer and nephritis to discolored teeth.

"Not one speculation of this kind has ever been substantiated," he adds.

In contradiction to these alarming claims are the results of research studies conducted by the Wisconsin State Board of Health in three cities—Green Bay, Fond du Lac, and Sheboygan.

The water at Green Bay was high in fluoride, that of Fond du Lac had a lesser amount, and Sheboygan scarcely a trace. A five-year survey "revealed clearly that there was no relation whatever between death rates and the quantity of fluoride in water."

Citizens of Escanaba may, therefore, vote for fluoridation with the assurance that the program will bring only benefit to their children and no harm to anyone.

Scientists Perfect Early Detection Of 3 Killer Cancers

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

BOSTON (AP)—Boston scientists have devised methods of detecting and diagnosing in a relatively early stage three of the commonest killers—cancers of the brain, breast and uterine cervix, the tip of the womb.

The results of this research were disclosed to a group of science writers.

A Tufts Medical School scientist, Dr. William H. Fishman, has found a simple, cheap and rapid way of detecting not only well-established cancers of the uterine cervix in post-menopausal women but also cancers of microscopic size and even precancerous conditions.

While his method missed a little less than 20 per cent of proven cancers, it brought to light many cancerous and precancerous conditions which might have been missed by conventional methods, he said.

Dr. William H. Sweet, neurosurgeon, and Dr. Gordon L.

Brownell, physicist, of the Harvard University School of Medicine and Massachusetts General Hospital, reported that they could not only diagnose but even pinpoint brain tumors without opening the skull.

They do this by injecting the patient with radioactive arsenic, which concentrates in brain tumors and can be traced with twin scintillation counters an hour or a day later. A scintillation counter detects radiation.

Dr. Ira T. Nathanson and associates of the same institutions have found they can predict with high accuracy whether a lump in the breast is benign or cancerous.

They do this by injecting the patient with radioactive potassium which concentrates in cancer and, as a rule, goes in very small quantity to benign tumors.

The test was made on 100 women with benign and malignant breast tumors. None of the benign tumors took up suspicious quantities of the radioactive potassium. The science writers in another interview were told that 18 patients with localized cancer of the voice box (larynx) treated during the last four years by multimillion-volt X-rays now show no evidence of the disease.

They were not called cured. Five years must pass following treatment before any cancer patient is considered cured.

Michigan In Good Position To Boost Poultry Production

EAST LANSING — Michigan ought to be a more important poultry producer because the state has all the essentials for it, says J. A. Davidson of Michigan State College's poultry department.

Even with its vast population centers, enough feed supplies and good markets, Michigan just barely limps into the top third of the states in poultry production, Davidson points out.

He suggests that a poultryman or a farmer with a part-time poultry enterprise can do well in Michigan if he has a large enough volume. That means enough chickens so he can afford to purchase feed in large quantities and labor saving equipment, and have a good marketing system. Davidson said the poultryman should shoot for these goals to have a profitable enterprise.

A greater number of eggs per bird—by using the right kind of birds, proper feed and feeding methods.

A higher percentage of eggs in the summer and fall.

Better quality eggs, both exterior and interior.

Better disease prevention and control methods.

A flock large enough to utilize labor saving equipment and increase labor efficiency.

A poultryman, advises Davidson, should keep only a pullet flock unless the flock and building are large enough to allow him to keep 15 to 25 per cent of his birds in the second year.

U. Prexy Comes To Aid Of Retired

OMAHA (AP)—An ex-university president is ready to help you face retirement. His correspondence course is called "planned maturity."

When Rowland Haynes retired as president of the University of Omaha in 1948, he wasn't sure what he would do.

"I never was much good at fishing," he admitted. But Haynes, now 75 and a widower living with a son-in-law and daughter here, found happiness. In six years, in addition to doing a little teaching "for relaxation," he planned his course in what he calls "super adult education."

"Someone has said that retirement is about the severest shock the human organism can sustain. But it doesn't have to be a shock if you plan ahead for it."

Oilman Had Mind On Other Things

OMAHA (AP)—When the Ervin R. Simons of Omaha redecorated their basement, they converted their furnace from oil to gas. Later their oil man came along with a tankful for another house on the same street and purely from force of habit stopped at the Simon home.

Eighty gallons of fuel oil had poured over the Simon's new basement before Mrs. Simon ran out and put a stop to it.

South American Plant May Supplant Spinach

WASHINGTON— "Junior, eat your quinoa!" may one day supersede parental pleas for spinach consumption at America's dining tables.

U. S. Food manufacturers have been experimenting recently with the thin leaves of the quinoa plant, an import from the lofty Andes, says the National Geographic Society. It appears to have possibilities as a substitute for much-maligned spinach.

Grows at High Altitudes

For centuries quinoa has been the staff of life for millions of South American natives. It grows only in the cold, thin atmosphere 10,000 to 15,000 feet high in Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador—where neither wheat nor barley will ripen.

Hardy, easy to cultivate, and resistant to pests and disease, quinoa is one of the world's most versatile plants.

Its seeds are eaten raw, boiled, roasted, or ground into flour. They are used also in making beer, for medicinal purposes, and as a poultry and livestock feed. Tender young shoots serve as salad greens.

Dried stems make a quick, hot fire—an important element in a land where fuel of any sort is hard to come by, and the dearth of oxygen hampers fire-building. The ash helps flavor the coca leaves, which Andean Indians chew.

To the layman, quinoa resembles nothing so much as a large weed. It grows three to five feet high, with a stout, much-angled stem triangular leaves, inconspicuous flowers and a multitude of tiny, vari-colored seeds.

Botanists call it Chenopodium quinoa and put it in the goosefoot family, a cousin of the common pigweed. Incan arrow is one of its many nicknames, but its old native name, quinos, has basic significance: It means "mama."

Sacred to Incas

Ancient Incas regarded it as a sacred plant. Ceremonies marked each planting season, and a golden implement was used to open the first furrow.

Quinoa cultivation goes on today much as it did when Pizarro first entered Peru in 1527. Indians sow the seed in the autumn. Seedlings emerge a week after planting, and a heavy head of seed matures in five or six months. Then the whole plant is cut and left to dry in the sun for several days. It is threshed by flailing with a stick.

Experiments in quinoa growing have been conducted in both Europe and the United States, but results were not encouraging. To produce grain of high nutritive value requires intense heat. But light frosts are also essential to insure complete ripening.

Technologists of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations believe the plant has commercial possibilities. Their tests show that 100 grams of seed—a very small meal—contains more starch, proteins and vitamins than a plate of eggs, a fresh fish, a side dish of assorted vegetables, and a generous helping of condensed milk.

Mended Heart Of Denver Man Has Plastic Valve

AP Newsfeatures
DENVER — Leonard Grenz of Denver is really ticking. When you're near him a constant "click . . . click . . . click" is audible. The sounds come from a plastic valve which Denver surgeons inserted just outside his heart in a three-hour operation. It takes the place of his own aortic valve which was damaged by rheumatic fever when he was six-years-old and living on his father's farm near Lake Benton, Mass. The fever scarred the mechanism which regulates the flow of blood from the heart to the lower portion of the body. Grenz, 37, has been plagued with heart trouble ever since. Grenz, married and the father of two small children, had to quit carpentry work entirely six months ago, after his natural aortic valve froze in the open position. His heart worked at killing speed. A team of Denver heart surgeons gave Grenz the choice of trying the plastic valve operation or facing inevitable death. The doctors had studied the work of Dr. Charles A. Hufnagel of Georgetown University's medical school in Washington, D. C. Dr. Hufnagel had reported successful use of the artificial valve as designed in 27 human cases. Circulation through the aorta artery to the lower part of Grenz' body was blocked off for 27 minutes while the valve was spliced into the artery just outside the heart. The valve, similar to a trap valve used by plumbers, is a tube about 2 1/2 inches long and 1 1/2 inches in diameter which bulges on the sides. A solid plastic ball, slightly larger than the diameter of the tube, rests loosely inside the bulges. With his natural aortic valve frozen open, each inward thrust of his heart sent the blood rushing back into it. Now the ball in the artificial valve permits blood to pass around it through the bulges on the outward thrust of the heart. On the inward thrust, however, the ball is sucked to the other end of the tube into a pocket, shutting off the backward rush of blood. Doctors say Grenz is now on the road to recovery, although he will always hear that life-giving "click . . . click . . . click."

LEONARD GRENZ

VALVE of plastic like the one attached to Leonard Grenz heart.

Unhappy Couple Slow Pay Tenants
LONDON (AP)—If married couples are slow in paying the rent, maybe it's because they're unhappy, says Miss Joan Scrutton, Oxfordshire housing manager. "Rent is a barometer of family life," she wrote in the bulletin of the (British) National Federation of Housing Societies. "Irregular payment or nonpayment is always a danger sign. Although rent collectors find it easy enough to collect nowadays from most tenants, Miss Scrutton said, their great difficulty is extracting the rent from 'families where there is real permanent discord.'"

Cargo Of Ancient Ship Tells Strange Story

WASHINGTON — About 230 B. C., a Greek ship sailing westward along the French Mediterranean coast sank with a full cargo of wine and Campanian pottery. The story of that ancient vessel, its discovery and salvaging of its archeological riches, was told before a Washington audience recently by Captain Jacques-Yves Cousteau, French marine explorer and leader of the National Geographic Society-Calypso Marine Archeological Expedition. The mud-covered ship, lying more than 110 feet deep off the rocky island of Grand Congloue near the port of Marseille, is being excavated by divers equipped with Aqualungs. Work has been in progress for more than a year. Wine Of The Ancients Scientists of the expedition team consider the Greek shipwreck to be the oldest seagoing cargo vessel ever found. From the 100-foot-long argosy, too big to be a rowed galley, have come more than 3,000 gracefully shaped amphorae, earthenware jars used in Greek and Roman wine trade. Packed among and above them in the shattered ship's hold were found thousands of pieces of black-varnished Campanian dinnerware. Plates, cups, and bowls made by have sent the great ship westward, its hold filled with fat-bellied Greek amphorae. Passing through the Strait of Messina between Sicily and Italy, it touched at a port northwest of what is now Naples to load Campanian pottery ware—an estimated 15,000 pieces—and even more amphorae of tall slender Roman design. Deep laden, perhaps beyond its master's liking, the ship sailed on northward and westward along the Mediterranean shore. But the Greek settlers in Massalia never got the chance to bid for its valuable cargo. Off a savage, rockbound coast, almost within sight of port, the vessel sank. There it lay, in a limestone cradle, attacked by worms and slowly covered by falling mud, until found by flippered, Aqualunged divers 2,200 years later. Try a Classified Ad today. Call 692

Roller Rink Aids Work Of Minister

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rev. Arthur F. Koons, who is experimenting with a "faith on wheels" program at his roller rink in near-by Westerville, says he gets more queries on spiritual matters there than he ever did "at my churches. Rev. Koons thinks the reason is "people are afraid to approach a minister at church or at home, fearful that they may be broadcasting the fact they have troubles and need advice." The minister offers a prayer each evening in connection with a flag ceremony. He calls the rink run by himself and his wife an "experiment in the field of juvenile delinquency."

Farmers To Get Weather Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau said it will open a revised and more informative farm weather forecast program on April 1.

On that date, the Bureau said, the agricultural weather forecast program for this year's crop growing season will begin over most of the country.

It said the program has been redesigned to deliver weather information to farm homes earlier in the day. Main forecasts will be put on the air through local radio stations from 6 to 8 a. m. local time.

The Weather Bureau said it would try to provide more information on winds, drying conditions and the extent of cloudiness or clear skies.

Also, the bureau said, the early morning bulletin will forecast conditions for three days ahead. In most areas the three-day outlooks have heretofore not been available until about noon.

Slide Rule Shows Moisture In Soil

EAST LANSING — A slide rule which helps make a quick and easy way to determine how much moisture there is in the soil has been developed by three researchers at Michigan State College.

The rule was developed at the Michigan Hydrologic Research Station by Elmer D. Rowland, T. D. Fagan and George A. Crabb Jr., as part of a research program between the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The slide rule is designed for use with plaster of Paris blocks. This block method of soil moisture determination, which revolutionized the study of soil moisture, was developed at M. S. C. by George J. Bouyoucos of the soil science department.

The new slide rule does away with the involved mathematical formulae and the desk-full of charts formerly necessary for the Bouyoucos method.

College agriculturalists say that this simplification of soil moisture studies is of great importance to agricultural research in Michigan where there is deficient rainfall in midsummer.

No Western-Type Clubs In Formosa

TAIPEH (AP) — More than 3,000 foreigners now live in Formosa, the majority in Taipei, giving this capital city of Nationalist China some of the cosmopolitan atmosphere which once prevailed in Shanghai and other former treaty ports on the mainland.

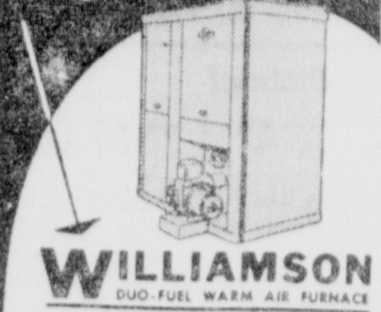

There is no chance, however, of Taipei ever becoming the Paris of the east as was Shanghai. The government's austerity program prevents that. Most entertaining is done in private homes. There are no western-type night clubs.

Government research indicates that it requires about 5½ hours to handle unprepared food for a day in a family of four, but only 1.6 hours if ready-to-serve foods are used.

Doctors Are Urged To Be More Human

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter
CLEVELAND (P)—A physician who was once an ordained minister criticized doctors "who feel that God made them, and everybody else just happened."

Dr. Robert M. Myers of Kansas City, Mo., made the remark in urging doctors to "become more human" in dealing with patients, especially prospective mothers.

Speaking to the American Academy of General Practice, Dr. Myers said: "I have a very definite conviction that the professional doctor interested in his pocketbook instead of the patient, and thinking only of retiring as soon as possible, does far more to further the cause of state or socialized medicine than all the politicians who ever lived."

Fear is the most common complication of pregnancy and the doctor can do much to relieve it, Dr. Myers said.

"See 'Nora Brown' as a complete individual instead of seeing her only as a machine which shall soon give birth to a baby."

Economic fear "is also one of the complications of pregnancy. I feel the patient has the right to know almost exactly to the dollar what the baby is going to cost. I would far rather hear my patients say, 'Is that all you are going to charge me?' instead of, 'My, doctor, I can't afford all that!"

Dr. Myers said, "If we have any reason to exist as the American Academy of General Practice, I believe it is primarily to bring the very best medical care at the very lowest possible cost to the most number of patients."

Mine Pensioners Remain Healthy

SYDNEY, N. S. (P)—They say if you put a Scotsman on pension he'll live forever. Bolstering this adage are 15 ex-miners, mostly of Scottish descent, on the pension rolls of a coal company here.

All are over 90 years old, and all plan to enjoy retirement for years to come. They are some of the men who started in the pits at 11 or 12 years of age, back in the days before child labor laws and trade unions. They earned up to 50 cents a day. Some worked in the same mine-shaft for more than 50 years.

Talks On Future Of Suez Ended

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Britain has notified Egypt she now considers British-Egyptian talks on the future of the Suez Canal base "formally broken off."

A high Egyptian official source disclosed this, adding that London's notification was made in a "note which has been handed over to Egypt."

The talks — revolving about Egypt's demand for withdrawal of Britain's 80,000-man garrison and Britain's demand for an airtight understanding on future defense of the canal zone—have been stalemated since Oct. 18, but recently there were indications they were about to resume.

Although the informant did not say so, it was presumed in Egyptian official circles that London's move was touched off by the recent worsening of British-Egyptian relations.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons in London Monday four British servicemen had been killed and several wounded by Egyptian attacks over the previous week.

1 Cor. 2:1-5

THE CROSS BREAKS US

We are meditating on the need for a central deliverance — the deliverance from the self. The self needs correction, of course. For you cannot wipe out the self. Self put out at the door comes back by the window in various disguises.

But what is the freeing power? It is the cross. The cross silently confronts this self with a demand—surrender! It does it powerfully and pervasively. For instance, here was a boy who had been adopted by a headmaster, who afterward became a bishop in India. The boy was increasingly wayward and rebellious and defiant. The headmaster was compelled to punish him one day after an especially flagrant act of disobedience. He took the rod and told the boy to stretch out his hand. The boy defiantly did so with bravado. The headmaster, instead of laying the rod on the boy's hand, laid it on his own hand and laid it on hard. The boy, seeing what was happening, cried out with an inner pain, fell at the master's feet, and with streaming tears begged him to desist and to forgive him. He did so. From that moment the boy was changed. The tyranny of his self-interest was broken. He was forever attached to the headmaster in love. The center was shifted.

The same headmaster had to dismiss a boy from school. But on the day on which the dismissal was to take place he decided to fast all day. When the other teachers heard this, they asked to join him in the fasting. Then the older boys, hearing of what was happening, asked to join the teachers in fasting. When the guilty boy heard that practically the whole school was fasting because of his dismissal, he fell at the feet of the headmaster and begged to be forgiven and given another chance. All decided to give it to him. The boy was a completely different boy. The suffering of the group broke something inside him, and he was freed from himself.

The cross conquers the self without violating it. It frees the self from itself and then attaches that self-love to the One who hung on the cross. Deliverance has come.

O Jesus, the miracle of Thy deliverance! I am in the dust, and yet I'm raised to the highest heaven. Amen.

AFFIRMATION FOR THE DAY: The cross melts me, molds me, and makes me.

Cut Flowers Now Sell By Weight

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—In cut flowers it isn't the smell nor the color that determines quality, it's the weight, say the specialists.

Arthur Leach of Manchester, N. H., a graduate student at Cornell University, has constructed a machine that grades flowers by weight. Pattered after an egg-grader, the gadget handles 120 dozen flowers an hour.

The machine makes possible standard grades—special, fancy, extra, first—which mean something to the grower if not to the customer. Previously each grower separated the blooms according to his own individual system and the retailer had to regrade to satisfy his customers.

THE DRIVER WALKED AWAY—This Gary, Ind., police accident investigation car — of all things to be in a smashup — is pretty well demolished. But Patrolman John Feuerstein, the driver, crawled out and walked away with only minor bruises and scratches. He was chasing a speeder at 80 mph when another car cut in front of him. Feuerstein swerved. His car smashed into two traffic signals and rolled over several times. Looking over the "miracle" wreck are John Panchak, left, and Toney Franke, garage mechanics.

Library Book Long Overdue

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Librarians at the Toledo Public Library estimated the fine on a book which turned up the other day at $263—but they said they would forget about it since there was no record who took the book out back in 1882.

The book, "David Crockett: His Life and Adventures" was retrieved from among the books left by the late Antone Zeitler, who died several months ago. A note in the back said a 3-cents-a-day fine would be levied if kept more than two weeks.

"David Crockett" cost $1 new.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Questions and answers about NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Q. What are the 3 most important rules for profitable newspaper advertising?

- A. 1. Your advertising message should be newsy, friendly, informative, easy to read. Give facts and news about your merchandise and service.
2. Advertise regularly. Make your advertising do what successful salesmen do—call on customers and prospects consistently.
3. Insist on audited circulation reports that give you the FACTS about the audience that your sales messages will have when you buy newspaper advertising.

Q. Is there a measure for the value of newspaper circulation to an advertiser such as the standards a merchant uses in buying merchandise—for example, like STERLING on silver?

A. Yes—in the well known circulation standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

Q. What is the A.B.C.?

A. The A.B.C. is a cooperative, non-profit association of 3,450 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914. Brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

Q. What does A.B.C. do for me?

A. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of the circulation records of each publisher member. The results of each audit are published in an easy-to-read A.B.C. report for your use and protection when you buy newspaper advertising.

Q. What are the FACTS in A.B.C. reports?

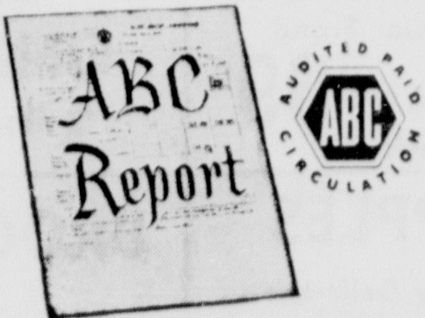

A. A.B.C. reports tell you how much circulation, where it goes, how obtained and other FACTS that help you buy advertising as you would make any sound business investment—on the basis of known values and audited information.

Q. Are all publications eligible for A.B.C. membership?

A. No. Only those with paid circulation. This is important to advertisers because it is evidence that the paper is wanted and read.

Q. Is this newspaper a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations?

A. Yes. We are proud of our circulation. We want you to know the FACTS about the audience your selling messages will have when they appear in these pages. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

Unemployment Not In Emergency State Yet, Says President

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday (A) there is nothing in the current unemployment situation calling for emergency action, and (B) in response to a question about Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), that no man should sit in judgment on his own case.

The two hot subjects were tossed to the President at a news conference.

Eisenhower was reminded by a reporter that he had said March probably would be the key month in determining whether a slump in business and employment would be offset by new gains.

Upturn Expected

The President replied that he had implied that March was a significant month because there is usually an upturn in business in this month.

He said however, that he had not promised any immediate launching of large scale countermeasures by the government. Instead, he said, he had pledged a new examination of the problem which was causing real concern.

He said that always after the end of war there was a drop in production, adding that employment went down at the same time.

He said unemployment has been rising since last July but added that the reports for March are not all in.

One thing that is affecting the situation, the President said, is that Easter is late this year and the ladies just haven't been buying yet.

All Angles Studied

He said, firmly however, that nothing has yet developed which would call for a slam-bang emergency program being applied at this moment.

Precipitate action might actually upset the situation rather than help it, Eisenhower declared.

But he said almost every conceivable kind of program is under consideration and study.

As to McCarthy, the President was asked his opinion of the senator's stand that he would not vote on matters related to his investigations subcommittee's inquiry into his dispute with Army officials but would insist on the right to cross-examine witnesses.

Eisenhower declined to express a specific opinion on that, but he said he was ready to go on record as to the general situation.

Then he declared:

When a man is party to a dispute in America — directly or indirectly — he should not be permitted to sit in judgment.

On other matters, the President: 1. Said, regarding the tense situation in Indochina, it is important to the free world to have a settlement there in favor of those who want to live their own lives against Communist aggression.

2. Said there is no change in the United States attitude regarding Red China, in connection with the conference to be held at Geneva next month. Red China will be represented there, but not as one of the main consulting powers. The U. S. so far has refused to recognize Communist China on that basis.

House Leaders Praised

3. Declared that the effects of the recent hydrogen blast in the Pacific apparently were surprising even to the Americans who conducted the tests. The President said things happened at the test which apparently hadn't happened before.

Eisenhower said, however, as the White House did Tuesday, that he will not discuss the H-bomb situation further until he has had an opportunity to confer with Lewis W. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Strauss is expected back from the Pacific area in a week or 10 days.

4. Warmly praised House Republicans who led a successful fight last week against a Democratic move to cut personal income taxes. The President also noted that the White House did Tuesday, that he will not discuss the H-bomb situation further until he has had an opportunity to confer with Lewis W. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Strauss is expected back from the Pacific area in a week or 10 days.

5. Asserted vigorously that the FBI files are inviolate so far as the possibility of making them available to congressional investigators is concerned. Eisenhower went on to say that there are certain types of files which never will be released to Congress, and that on the other hand there might be some types which could be released.

Delay Detrimental

6. Expressed anew belief that the legislative program he sent to Congress represents a crying need to assure an upturn in the economy, happiness for all, and a stronger America. Eisenhower said the longer action on the program is put off, the longer we fail to take advantage of our opportunities. He made those remarks when asked whether he is satisfied with the rate of progress on the program in Congress.

7. Characterized his conference with Gen. Douglas MacArthur last week as purely an exchange of views on the world situation between two old friends. Eisenhower said they reached no definitive conclusions and had not intended to do so.

The President was asked for a soldier's evaluation of the situation at Dien Bien Phu, the French fortress in Indochina under heavy assault by the Communists.

Eisenhower replied that in cases where you hold well chosen positions, the odds usually favor the defenders—in this case the French.

During discussion of the Pacific nuclear weapons tests, Eisenhower was asked about the possibility of giving the public more information on the atomic program. He replied that with the world entering the atomic age the public naturally has legitimate questions about it.

He added that he wants to make as much information available as can be provided without jeopardizing the nation's security.

Eisenhower repeated he plans to review the whole situation with the Atomic Energy Commission chairman as soon as Strauss returns from the Pacific tests.

Spanish Now Is Taught In Grade Schools

By WILLIAM GREEN

Spanish is now being taught in the lower grades in Manistique Public Schools.

Students are not given grammar or written work in the course, rather, they are taught in the same manner as they learned to speak the English language—repeating words and phrases, naming things in their immediate surroundings, playing games, singing songs in Spanish, and through the medium of conversation about everyday things.

This is the natural way to learn a foreign language. It is precisely in this way that European children learn several languages of their neighboring countries. American children have the same linguistic ability as their European cousins, they lack only the opportunities of the Europeans.

The method used in Manistique is not a radical innovation, or experiment without foundation. It is being used in over 200 cities throughout the United States. Large city schools, such as Cleveland, Detroit, Seattle, and Washington, have taught foreign languages in their grades for years and their experiences show that the plan is highly profitable.

Students in lower grades show greater aptitude in mastering a foreign tongue.

Dr. Earl J. McGrath, United States Commissioner of Education, has pointed out that, "American leadership today demands greater linguistic ability on the part of her citizens."

This ability can only be developed by starting the study of a language earlier and continuing it longer than is being done or is possible to do in the high schools.

Nationally, Spanish leads all other foreign languages taught in lower grades, with French trailing a close second.

The success of our present grade courses will become increasingly apparent when present grade students enter high school and take advanced courses which include both grammar and written language.

Hospital Proposal Is Explained To Group

A new amendment to the legislation providing for federal aid in building hospitals requires the question of forming a hospital authority be presented to referendum. Andy Robare said at a meeting Tuesday night at the city hall designed to explain the proposal to be voted on at the annual City Election Monday, April 5.

The City of Gladstone and five townships: namely Bay de Noc, Brampton, Cornell, Ensign and Maple Ridge will vote on the question on April 5.

Robare said the following persons had been named to represent the city and townships: Gladstone, Commissioner Adam Sinclair; Bay de Noc, Peder Pederson; Brampton, George Berg; Cornell, Fred Holmes; Ensign, Harold Gustafson and Maple Ridge, Walter Mantie.

Mass meetings will be held at Rock on Monday night and at Ensign on Tuesday night to explain the proposal to the electors.

The proposal would have the city contract with the hospital authority for care of indigents in the hospital at city expense but this would seldom happen for such cases are cared for by the welfare department at the present.

Both Robare and H. T. Brewer, chairman of the previously formed Hospital Authority, spoke to the assembly.

May Not Need Tax

It was pointed out that in regard to taxes which could be levied if the proposal is approved, it does not necessarily mean that the hospital authority will ask the levying of the 4 1/10ths of one mill tax—this would not be asked for unless needed for operation, Robare declared.

The tax would amount to only 40 cents on each $1,000 of assessed valuation as last equalized. This means less than $2 on the average assessment in Gladstone. If it were placed on the entire valuation of the county, were it possible, it would only provide about $12,000 annually.

Mortgage revenue bonds could be issued according to the regulations but it was declared very remote as it would be extremely hard to sell such bonds.

Need for the hospital was stressed and one speaker said vehicular traffic probably would increase ten-fold with the building of the Straits Bridge.

In response to a question, Chairman Brewer said the total cash on hand and pledged runs between $20,000 and $30,000 and he said he was certain he could pick up $50,000 in less than a day, if he were canvassing.

The local share of the building fund will be obtained entirely through contributions, Brewer declared.

Advise Several Dairies To Improve Milk Quality

Dairies distributing milk for sale in Gladstone which does not come up to the standard set by local city ordinance are being advised to bring their product up to the requirements or they will be unable to distribute their products here. This was decided upon at a regular meeting of the City Commission this week.

The session was attended by Dr. O. S. Hult, M.D., city health officer, and Wallace Benzie, Sanitary Engineer for the Delta-Menominee County Health Department.

Recent tests reveal that several of the milk brands, particularly those coming in from outstate, were below the 3.6 per cent butter fat content required by city ordinance in Gladstone. Tests made by the Delta-Menominee District Health Department showed butter fat contents ranging from 3 to 3.8 per cent in the various milk tests. State law provides for a minimum of 3 per cent.

Both Dr. Hult and Sanitarian Benzie said it was possible for dairies to regulate the butter fat content of the milk they produced and in many cases this was the practice.

City Manager H. J. Henrikson was asked by the commission to write each of the offending companies giving notification that tests reveal the milk to be sub-

Dying With Cancer, Seattle Doctor Sees Chance For Activity

SEATTLE (AP)—A Seattle doctor, dying with cancer, thinks other persons in his situation could well spend their final days in productive living rather than in inactive dread.

Aware for six months that he is hopelessly ill of cancer, Dr. Merrill Shaw, 50, vice president of the American Academy of General Practice, says he has had time for a "prepared exit."

Meanwhile, he said in an interview published Wednesday, he has been able to do the things he always has wanted to do but never before had the time.

The period after a patient learns of his condition, he said, can be highly productive.

"The cancer victim who is head of a family, for instance, has the time to be an adviser to his survivors," he has a college-age son and daughter.

Wooden Signs Were Obsolete

EMMETT, Idaho (AP)—R. O. McMahon, a real estate agent, figured it was just a routine request when he asked the city council for permission to put up one of those wooden signs he'd seen over the sidewalk in front of other business houses.

The council looked in the statute book to make sure, found a 36-year-old fire ordinance on the subject, and had to order all the wooden signs taken down.

The two key figures in the new Green Bay Packers regime, head coach Vince Lombardi and general manager Verne Lundquist, will be guests at a joint meeting of the Rotary-Kiwanis-Lions clubs at a noon luncheon meeting Monday at the Delta Hotel.

Both of the guests at the joint meeting, first of its kind held here in a number of years, are nationally known figures in the sports world. Lombardi was hired as Packers coach succeeding Gene Zietz after the close of the National Football League season last fall. He resigned as head football coach at Marquette University, Milwaukee, to accept the position.

Lundquist, one of the all-time Packers greats to come out of Green Bay's early championship days, was selected as general manager from the board of directors and executive committee.

The Packers officials will speak following the luncheon and will hold a question-and-answer session with members of the service clubs.

Top Prep Record
Blackburn, 54, graduated from Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., and coached for 22 years at Washington High School in Milwaukee where his teams won 140 games, lost 30 and tied six.

In 1946 he retired as Washington coach and became a full-time scout for the University of Wisconsin while continuing his teaching duties and in 1948 he was named backfield coach of the Badgers.

In 1949 "Liz" took the job of line coach at Marquette and succeeded Frank Murray as head coach in 1950. Confronted with a vast rebuilding program, he came up with 18 wins, 17 losses and four ties in top class collegiate competition. Last season his Hilltoppers won six, lost three to Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan State by a total of nine points, and tied one.

Blackburn is regarded in the coaching profession as a rigid fundamentalist, a strict disciplinarian and a leader who has the ability to get the most out of his players. His selection by the Packers as head coach followed nearly two months of screening by the committee which interviewed prospects from all over the nation.

Was Leading Scorer
Lewellen, during his Packers playing days, was especially noted for his booming punts but he was also a fine running halfback and a great defensive player. He holds fourth place in the team's all-time scoring list with 301 points over nine seasons of play and led the Pack in scoring for five consecutive years. He was the spark in the Green Bay backfield on teams that won three straight championships in 1929-30-31.

A lawyer by profession, Lewellen continued to practice law after his playing days until 1942 when he entered the employ of the Standard Oil Company which he now serves as tax supervisor.

In taking over his new duties with the Packers, Lewellen stated: "I realize I am taking on many responsibilities in this job, but I know that I can count on the support and help of Packers fans everywhere. In reorganizing the business affairs of the corporation, my constant purpose will be to assist the Packers organization to recapture the glory of our championship days."

HERMANSVILLE — Two Escanaba quints advanced to the quarterfinals of the Gold Medal basketball tournament here last night as the original field of 31 Class B teams was cut to eight.

Mike's Bar and A's All Stars notched wins last night while the Manistique Merchants were defeated and the Stephenson Strollers copped a win.

Mike's handled a swift, young Green Bay Frabry quint without trouble, parlaying height, weight and experience into a 57-36 victory. The Escanaba quint moved quickly to a 24-8 lead in the first period and was never threatened.

Dufour Sets Pace
Bob Dufour set Mike's scoring pace with 19 points on seven baskets and five free throws while Angie Hirm hit for 12 and Bill Cour-neene 10. All eight players in action scored for the winners.

The outclassed Green Bay team was paced by Jack Junio, red-headed guard, with 17 points.

Al's went down to the final second before edging the Menominee Jozwiak team, 49-48. With the score tied at 48-48 Menominee made a bid for victory with a driving layup but missed the shot with seven seconds remaining.

Jerry McDonough took the ball down for Al's and was fouled as the final buzzer sounded. The former St. Joe star missed his first shot but canned the second for the margin of victory.

Don Paulin led Al's with 14 points and McDonough added 13. High point honors went to Menominee's Don Deschaine with 26. The teams stayed within three points of each other throughout the tight game.

After leading by a single point at the half, 39-38, the Manistique Merchants were out-gunned in the second half and lost to the strong Negaunee Maruk's 83-73.

Class A Games Friday
Four Manistique cagers hit in double figures, led by Rudy Brandstrom's 21 points, but it wasn't enough as all five starters for Negaunee also hit over 10 points each. Maki's 20 was high for Negaunee. Paul Hinkson scored 19, Dick Berger 14, George Hough 13 for Manistique.

Stephenson took at 13-12 lead over Pound and then pulled steadily away for a 64-54 decision. Blomberg paced the victors with 23 points while Smith was high for Pound with 16.

The two Escanaba teams return to action in tonight's late games at 9 and 10. Al's takes on the Ishpeming Lions and Mike's meets the Menominee DAR quint.

Class A teams swing into action with an attractive schedule of four games Friday night. Escanaba's Skinny's Bar faces the Green Bay City Service in the nightcap starting at 10.

St. Joseph All-Sports Banquet Set Saturday

St. Joseph athletes, from the grades and high school, and their coaches will be honored at the all-sports school banquet to be held Saturday evening.

The program, sponsored by the St. Joe Boosters Club and their wives and the Home and School Association, will begin at 5 p. m. with the showing of a movie "Highlights of the 1953 Notre Dame Football Season," at the William Bonifas auditorium.

Immediately after the film, a cafeteria-style banquet will be held in the parish hall. The banquet is in recognition of all the athletes, boys and girls, cheerleaders and coaches in the school. An entertainment program has been arranged and Fr. Stephen Schneider, athletic director, will be the main speaker. Each coach will also review the season activity in his sport.

Basketball letter awards will be presented to the St. Joe Trojan cagers by Coach Tom St. Germain. Coach of the girls team at St. Joe,

Mary D. Costley, will also present letters. Other members of the coaching staff are Dominic Biagioli, assistant football; Don Dufresne, reserve team basketball; Bob Dufour, junior high football and basketball; Ed McCarthy, grade school basketball, and John Gannon, grade school football.

Jerry McDonough, senior guard, will be honored as the St. Joe "most valuable" player, elected by his team mates. McDonough and David Hirm were named honorary co-captains.

Guests at the banquet will be the oldest graduates of St. Joseph High School available to attend. First graduating class at St. Joe was in 1888. The 1954 graduating class will be the last for the school, as St. Joe students will transfer to the new Holy Name High School next school year.

Also a guest at the banquet will be Brother Timothy, I. S. C., of the Christian Brothers, future teachers of the new Catholic Central school.

HAWKS ARE SET—Four members of the Escanaba Hawks hockey team pose in new team jackets before shoving off for Marquette where they will cross sticks with the Portage Lake

Hawks To Shoot Works At Pioneers Tonight

With the pressure on them after losing 7-1 at Houghton's Dee Stadium Tuesday night, the Escanaba Hawks will be all out for a victory over the Portage Lake Pioneers when the teams clash in the second game of the championship Gibson Cup playoffs at the Marquette Palestra tonight at 8.

The game is Escanaba's home tilt, played at Marquette because of lack of ice at the fairgrounds exhibition building. Advance sale of tickets in Marquette is reported good and a large number of Escanaba fans are making the trip tonight.

The Hawks have their work cut out for them as they go against the powerful Pioneers. The Escanaba sextet will still be without the services of wing Burt Patja and defensively their position is weakened by the leg injury of Hubert Hamilton.

Other than that, the Hawks are at peak strength with all regulars available for action tonight. Ben Artvich is fully recovered from his head cut and will be in the nets. Jim Ogile's face cut was not serious and he will be available for full-time defensive work.

"We know we need this one tonight and the boys are confident they can give Portage Lake a good game. We've got everything to win tonight and will pull out all stops," player-coach Mark Olson explained this morning.

The Hawks fell off on their point-production against the Pioneers Tuesday night. They had piled up 21 points in three semifinal series games against Marquette last week with Joe Ricci scoring six of them. If they get their shooting eyes back they could make it hot for the veteran Clyde Berryman. Portage Lake goalie, Winger Doug Peterson was the only Hawk able to get the puck past Berryman in the first game.

After tonight's contest, the series will swing back to Houghton's Dee Stadium for the third game on Sunday afternoon. If the series goes four games, the teams will meet again at Marquette next Tuesday night.

U.P. Central League Banquet Set April 1

The annual Upper Peninsula Central League basketball banquet will be held at the Rapid River High School on Thursday, April 1, at 6:30.

Plans for the recognition banquet were set last night at the annual spring meeting of the league. Members of the Central League are Rapid River, Cooks, Nuhma, Bark River, Rock, Perkins, Treary and Eben.

Highlight of the banquet will be the naming of the all-league selections which are determined by votes of team members. Each team selects an all-opponent team and the eight players receiving the highest number of votes make the all-league squad.

All-league players will be honored as will the championship Rapid River quint.

Sports Briefs

LANSING (P)—Thousands of Canada geese have been reported this week in the Fennville state game area in Kalamazoo River bottomlands, the State Conservation Department said today. They are on their way to northern nesting grounds.

JACKSON (P)—Jackson's Bob Fitch led the Michigan Junior College Basketball Conference in scoring this season with 350 points and an 18.4 point average. He was named to a first team berth on the loop's all-star team along with Robert Birk, Highland Park; John Woods, Benton Harbor; Ed Greener, Henry Ford and Joe Roberson, Flint.

KALAMAZOO (P)—Athletic Director Rola Anderson said Kalamazoo College would resume baseball competition in the MIAA conference next year. Kalamazoo dropped the sport in 1951.

LANSING (P)—Beaver and other trapping conditions in the northern Lower Peninsula were described as poor today in the State Conservation Department. The trapping season opened March 20 and will close March 31.

EAST LANSING (P)—The Michigan State College baseball team was headed south for its annual spring training trip today.

Favor Red Wings To Whip Leafs Tonight

By JOE FALLS
DETROIT (P)—The Detroit Red Wings are heavy favorites to whip Toronto in the second game of the Stanley Cup Playoffs tonight because of the Maple Leafs' strange inability to score at Olympia Stadium.

Coach King Clancy's squad has scored only four times in eight games at Olympia Stadium this season. That's an average of a half goal per game.

Toronto has won more playoff titles than any other team—nine—but it is rated an outsider to make it No. 10 this year.

The Red Wings are near a peak at this time. All injuries are healed, the team is rested and goalie Terry Sawchuk and winger Gordie Howe are performing brilliantly.

Molinas Gets Cold Shoulder

NEW YORK (P)—"He broke faith with us."

Thus Maurice Podoloff, president on the National Basketball Assn., all but squashed any chance Jack Molinas, suspended Fort Wayne star, had of being reinstated to his club.

The pistons dropped Molinas when it was found that he had placed bets on the team to win. Wednesday, a Bronx County grand jury reported that no evidence of any crime had been found.

Molinas, overjoyed, immediately said he would like to get back into action.

"We are not concerned with whether Molinas committed a crime," Podoloff snapped. "To us, his betting means that he broke faith with us. It was a flagrant violation of a written contract."

He added that he could not personally outlaw Molinas because such authority rests with the Board of Governors of the NBA. However, he indicated he doubted if Molinas would be permitted to play again.

During 1953 the Brooklyn Dodgers topped the National League in double-header wins. They won 26 and lost only seven. They never dropped both games of a twin bill.

Newhouser Gets Credit For Win Over Chicago

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Less than a year ago, Hal Newhouser who once had drawn $65,000 for pitching for the Detroit Tigers, said:

"I'm finished as an active player. My arm just can't stand the strain any more."

The handsome fireballer had just been told that at the age of 32, he couldn't even hold a job with the last-place Tigers. After almost 15 years with them, he got his unconditional release.

Today he's back trying to win a spot with the Cleveland Indians. Newhouser got credit for his first victory of the spring training season Wednesday when the Indians battered the Chicago Cubs 12-2. Despite the heavy bombing, the slim left-hander didn't allow the Cubs a run in his three-inning stint.

Injury Jinx Hits

The injury jinx struck the Indians when second-string catcher Mickey Grasso broke his left ankle sliding into a base. He will be out

First Softball Meet Is Set For Monday

First organizational meeting of the Escanaba Softball Association will be held Monday evening at 7 at the city recreation center. Club 314, it was announced today by Tom Dufour, president.

All officials of the Association and interested persons are to attend the meeting. Plans will be made for this year's city softball leagues.

The Milwaukee Braves have scheduled seven Ladies Days for the 1954 season, one against every club in the league.

Sam Crawford of the Detroit Tigers won the American League home run championship in 1908 by hitting only seven homers.

The lowest batting average ever to win the American League championship was .306 hit by Elmer Flick of the Cleveland Indians in 1905.

Bob Keegan and Mike Fornieles held the Cincinnati Redlegs to eight hits in tossing the Chicago White Sox to a 6-4 victory.

about three months. He is Jim Hegan's No. 1 understudy.

Meanwhile, the Baltimore Orioles, the Cactus League leaders, won their 11th game against five defeats by turning back the New York Giants 4-3 at Phoenix. They jumped on Sal Maglie for three runs in the sixth.

The Detroit Tigers broke a five-game losing streak with a 5-4 victory over the Milwaukee Braves, achieved on a ninth-inning two-out single by rookie Harry Birt.

The Philadelphia Phillies, who have scored just six runs in their last five games, dropped a 7-1 decision to the Washington Senators.

The Pittsburgh Pirates hit five home runs in a 10-4 victory over the Philadelphia A's. Winning pitcher Max Surkont yielded only one hit in his three innings.

Cards Beat Dodgers

Young Bill Skowron drove in six runs for the New York Yankees to lead the world champions to an 11-7 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Skowron is a first baseman and the Yanks already have three, but he might stick as a pinch hitter.

The St. Louis Cardinals scored four runs in the ninth inning to turn back the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-2. Stu Miller went five innings for the Cards, allowing the Brooks only one hit, a home run by Gil Hodges.

Bob Keegan and Mike Fornieles held the Cincinnati Redlegs to eight hits in tossing the Chicago White Sox to a 6-4 victory.

Tigers Beat Milwaukee; Battle For Second Base Continues For Detroit

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—If there is anything hotter than the weather in Florida this spring it's the battle of the "B and B boys"—Frank Bolling and Harry Bright—for the regular second base spot with the Detroit Tigers.

When Bolling is in the game he looks like a cinch for the regular berth. But then Bright appears and seems to be the answer to manager Fred Hutchinson's second base problem.

Bolling and Bright teamed up Wednesday to figure in the scoring of all three of Detroit's earned runs as the Tigers defeated the Milwaukee Braves 5-4 on a two-run ninth inning rally.

Braves Score First

The Braves scored in the first inning off starter Steve Gromek, who gave up that run and only four hits in the six innings he worked. Bolling led off for the Tigers with a home run to tie the score.

Detroit took a 2-1 lead in the fourth on singles by Harvey Kuenn and Ray Boone and an infield error.

Bolling gave way to Bright who drove in Gromek in the fifth with a fence-rattling double.

That was all the scoring for Detroit off Lew Burdette, Milwaukee ace who worked the first six innings. Ernie Johnson, who relieved Burdette, also held Detroit in check.

Redlegs Today

Frank Lary took over for Detroit in the seventh and gave up three runs that sent Milwaukee into a 4-3 lead in the top of the ninth.

Charley Gorin then came on the mound for the Braves. Bill Tuttle walked and went to third on Matt Batts' single. Bonus baby Reno Bertola followed with a slow tap that was muffed and Tuttle scampered home with the tying run.

Milt Jordan, running for Batts, scored the winning run on Bright's single through the box.

The Tigers try for their second straight victory today against the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Nardico Loses Nod To Heavier Norkus

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Danny Nardico, the Tampa brawler who depends on raw courage to overcome his lack of boxing ability, retreated back to the light heavyweight ranks today after taking a second savage beating from Charley Norkus of Jersey City.

Norkus, the unranked 24-year-old heavyweight, had a 17-pound advantage as he hammered out a unanimous 10-round decision over Nardico Wednesday night. He weighed 197½ to Nardico's 180½.

Was Rematch They were rematched for a national television audience as a result of their bloody eight-knockdown battle in the same ring Jan. 20. Norkus flattened Nardico six times in that one and hit the deck twice himself before the fight was stopped.

Neither went down Wednesday night, but it was the same kind of brawl. It was enough to convince Nardico he doesn't belong in the heavyweight ranks.

"He's just too tough," Danny declared through puffed lips in his dressing room. "I had to give too much weight."

Always On Attack

Nardico's trainer, Bill Gore, added, "From now on, Danny will stay in the light heavyweight division."

Nardico, always on the attack, got through Norkus' fumbling defense with dozens of smashing lefts and rights. But for every blow he landed, Nardico took two.

Norkus was amazed at Nardico's courage. Even when Danny's eyes were glazed and he seemed on the way out, Norkus said he "kept growling to me to come on and fight."

Lakers Win To Take Cage Playoff Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
George Mikan and Jim Pollard, who've helped the Minneapolis Lakers to four National Basketball Association championships in the past five years, are up to their old playoff tricks.

The veteran Laker stars were the big guns Wednesday night as the champions walloped the Rochester Royals 89-76 to take a 1-0 lead in the best of three series for the western division title. The winner of that one will play the victor in the eastern division best of three series, which starts tonight with Boston playing at Syracuse.

Mikan was the game's high scorer with 28 points and tossed in two free throws to put M-nineapolis back in front 52-51 after Rochester had grabbed its only lead in the third quarter. Pollard contributed 23 points.

LOW WORSHAM SETS Pro-Amateur Mark

PALM BEACH (AP)—Lew Worsham set a new record in winning the annual pro-amateur tournament Wednesday with 68-68—136. The old record was held by several players at 138.

It was Worsham's first tournament victory since his spectacular wedge shot gave him the $25,000 first prize in the Tam O'Shanter at Chicago last August. He collected $1,800.

Jim Ferrier of San Francisco was second with 140 and picked up $1,000. Earl Stewart Jr. of Dallas carded 141 to win $700. Cary Middlecott and Bo Winninger of Oklahoma City each posted 142, good for $475.

Ben Hogan had 70-73—143 to tie with five others for sixth place, worth $315 each.

Air Force Solves $200,000 Theft

TOKYO (AP)—An Air Force Major entrusted with destroying worn-out military currency and a former officer have been arrested for allegedly pocketing some $200,000 destined for the furnace, the Air Force announced.

Maj. Thomas Pate of Los Angeles, under house arrest here, has helped recover most of the money, Far East Air Forces said. No charges have been filed against him.

The FBI in Washington identified the second man as Lowell A. Logan, 24, of Springfield, Ohio. Now a student at the University of Iowa, Logan was arrested Saturday at Iowa City. He pleaded innocent Tuesday to a charge of embezzling $20,000 in federal funds.

Pate has been finance officer at Tachikawa air base 20 miles southwest of Tokyo.

The air force said he admitted swapping script of small denomination for bigger currency and then falsifying records to show that the bigger certificates had been destroyed.

The role allegedly played by Logan was not announced.

When arrested, the major was carrying $66,000 in U. S. currency. Military personnel in Japan are required to use only military script while on duty in Japan.

Forecaster Dies

LONDON (AP)—Sir Nelson King Johnson, the British weather man who gave the all-clear for the D-Day invasion of Germany, died Tuesday. He was 65. Johnson also provided forecasts for the bombing offensive against Germany by the Royal Air Force and the U. S. 8th Air Force.

COFFEE 'N' SUGAR — If coffee prices keep soaring, Abbe Lane, wife of bandleader Xavier Cugat, might be forced to bathe in a demitasse cup. However, for the present she's content to relax in a whole tubful of the precious stuff in New Orleans, La. The pretty singer claims coffee helps tone her skin.

Cow Bells To Ring In Cockney London

LONDON (AP)—The war blitzed church of St. Mary-le-Bow is being restored and in time, cockney children will again be born "with-in the sound of Bow Bells."

However, it may be four years before the famous Christopher Wren church with its 12 bells will rise on its Cheapside site not far from St. Paul's Cathedral. It dates back to 1680.

The word "cockney" is a colloquial term applied to Londoners generally who can produce an accent all their own. By popular agreement those born within the sound of Bow Bells can claim rightful cockney origin.
